第一部分 听对话回答问题。(听两遍)

1. W: When were you born, Rick?
M: I was born in 1995, and my brother Jack was born two years earlier.
2. W: What do you usually have for breakfast?
M: I used to eat dumplings, but now I'm used to bread and milk.
3. W: Excuse me, but which is the way to the bank? Is it at the corner of the street?
M: No, it's between the museum and the supermarket.
4. W: Shall we meet at two this afternoon?
M: Sorry, I'll have a meeting at that time. Let's meet an hour later.
5. W: Simon, everyone knows you have a lot of friends. That's great.
M: Yes. I like making friends with different people.
6. W: Hello! 8-5-4-double 8-2-8-1. This is Sophia.
M: Hello! Sophia. This is Frank. Would you like to have dinner with us tonight?
7. W: Shall I make tea for you before you leave for work?
M: There's no need to do that. I'll make it myself.
8. W: You mean you didn't catch the plane.
M: Yes, I started very early, but I didn't know the way to the airport was so busy.
9. W: Does this jumper fit me, Dad?
M: Yes. And it is cheap. You know, two of these only cost me 70 yuan.
10. W: Oh. I'm very tired. When will we get to the mountain?
M: Hopefully, we will get there by evening.

第二部分 听对话和短文回答问题。(听两遍)

听对话,回答第 11~12 小题。

M: What are you going to do during the coming holiday?

W: I haven't decided. How about you?

M: Since we have a holiday of seven days, I will go travelling. I've got some information from the newspaper. Would you like to go with me?

W: I'd like to. But where?

M: How about Yunnan? I learnt from the TV that Yunnan is a beautiful place. The weather there is nice, too.

W: That's great. I have never been there before.

M: Let's go to the travel agency together to ask for more information.

W: OK.

听第一篇短文,回答第 13~15 小题。

Sandy is my best friend. We became good friends three years ago. She is tall and slim. She has a square face, shoulder-length hair, big, bright and smiling eyes. She is an honest girl. I can tell her anything because she can keep secrets. She is ready to help others any time. She would like to be a social worker when she grows up. Then she can listen to people's problems and help them solve their problems.

听第二篇短文,回答第 16~20 小题。

Dear Jenny,

I've got the letter you wrote to me on December 5th last Friday. I'm very happy to hear that you're doing well. It's been about two months since you left. I'm very glad to hear that your new job is interesting, but I'm sorry to hear that you don't like Washington. I think you'll like it better once you make more friends there. Good luck to you!

Thank you very much for your invitation, but I'm very sorry that I can't go to your Christmas party on December 24th because my grandfather will come here that day to celebrate Christmas with our family. Please forgive me! I hope you can come to New York to spend the New Year holiday with us.

Yours,
Lucy

七、 Now travelling abroad is becoming popular in China. However, some Chinese tourists don't behave well while travelling abroad. They make big noise in public places, litter everywhere, and even write or draw on cultural relics. These adults should be educated or punished so that they can develop good manners.

As middle school students, we should pay attention to our behaviours in daily lives. For example, we should keep our voice down in public places, throw rubbish into dustbins and always wait in line. While travelling abroad, we should not only protect the natural environment and cultural relics, but also respect local rules and customs.

听第二篇短文,回答第 16~20 小题。

Christmas is a holiday known throughout the world. Of course, children especially look forward to it because they can receive gifts. If they're young, they love to get toys. Older children receive other types of gifts. Even adults exchange gifts. For example, a husband may buy jewellery such as a diamond necklace or a ring for his wife. A woman may buy a tie or a leather wallet for her husband. These days computers are popular as gifts. But gifts are just part of Christmas. Most people like to go shopping at that time. People also like to see coloured lights on buildings and trees. Some even buy Christmas trees to put in their homes or offices. It's a fun time of the year!

The Power of an Example

Everyone may admire the heroes in the society. So do I. The heroes can be considered as the examples in our daily life. I want to learn from Yang Liwei, who is a Chinese astronaut.

Yang is very brave and he is also the first man to go into the space in China. Although it's very dangerous to do it, he is never afraid of the difficulty that he is facing. He has made a great contribution to the progress of our country's space research, so we Chinese are proud of him.

I want to be a great man like him when I grow up. To realize my dream, I'll work harder than before and take on new challenges any time. I believe I will be a successful person in the future.

I have interviewed three students at my school about the TV programmes they like. I found that they're interested in different programmes.

Daniel is a Grade 7 student. He is crazy about playing basketball, so he likes programmes about sports. He thinks they are very exciting. His favourite TV programme is Sports City.

Rose is also in the seventh grade. She is a member of the Art Club. She is fond of watching programmes about animals. Her favourite programme is Tiger Watch.

Tom is in Grade 9. He is a member of the Drama Club. He enjoys watching music programmes after he feels tired or stressed, because he thinks music makes him feel happy and relaxed. His favourite programme is Music World.

听第二篇短文,回答第 16~20 小题。

In today's programme, I'm going to tell you something about George Dawson and his book. George Dawson wrote a book called Life is so good. The book is full of stories from George's life. George wrote it in 1998 when he was 100 years old. The most amazing part is that George learned to read just two years before he wrote the book. When George was 8, his father sent him to work. Life was hard for the poor American family. Food became more important than school. When George was 98, he heard about adults classes near his home. He still had a dream that he would learn to read. He went to class. His teacher helped him, and in two years he wrote his book. From George Dawson's life story, we can see it is never too old to learn.

七、Robots and Humans

With the development of science, more and more people are confused whether it is good or bad to make robots. Are robots going to take place of human beings?

Every coin has two sides. Robots can be good to our society and life. At the same time, it also has some bad effect on our life. In my opinion, the advantages of robots are much more than the disadvantages of robots.

First, robots make our life more convenient. We can do many things that we didn't have the ability to do in the past by using robots. That makes our life more efficient.

Second, robots can be used in industry production. Factories can reduce the cost of production by using robots. Robots do not need to eat and they will not be ill. That's very good for producing goods.

Third, robots can save more people when disaster happens. Because they can't feel pain and they can save more people without feeling tired.

In a word, the world is changing. We should also change our thought to accept robots to become part of our life. That can make our life more colourful.

Mark Spitz is one of the greatest athletes in the world. He was born on February 10th, 1950, in America. By the age of 10, he had already held 17 national age-group records and set one world record. Because of his wonderful work, people gave him many honors. He was named the world's best 10-and-under swimmer. Also people considered him as the greatest swimmer of all time. In the 1972 Olympics, he became the first athlete to win seven gold medals in an Olympics. After winning so many medals, Mark retired. Though he's not an athlete now, he still enjoys sports. He often goes sailing and travelling in his spare time.

听第二篇短文,回答第16~20小题。

Steve works as an engineer in a factory. Every morning, he goes to work by train. As he has a long way, he always buys a newspaper. It helps to make the time pass more quickly. One Thursday morning, he turned to the page of sports. He wanted to look for the news about an important football match. The news was so interesting that he forgot to get off at the next station and had to wait a long time for a train going back. Of course, he arrived very late at the office. The owner of the factory was very angry when he told him why he was late. "Work is more important than football," he shouted.

七、Life on another planet

People believe that humans could live on another planet in the near future because of the development of science.

We can take a spacecraft to another planet. It won't take long time, just about three hours. The journey will be comfortable and enjoyable. It will be easy for us to find food from the earth, and the food is not only cheap but also excellent. We will have big houses with many comfortable rooms, which makes it easier to work and study at home. When we have time, we can travel outside to take a close look at satellites around. Cars are controlled by robots, and they won't cause air pollution.

I think life on another planet would be interesting and exciting. I'm looking forward to that.

Today Mary wants to buy some new clothes, so she goes to a shop. First she asks for some trousers and tries them on, but then she takes them off and gives them back to the shopkeeper and says, “Now, give me a blouse!” The shopkeeper gives her a blouse and says, “This one costs the same as the trousers.” Mary takes the blouse and walks out of the shop with it. The shopkeeper runs after her and says, “You didn’t pay for the blouse!” “But I gave you the trousers for the blouse,” says Mary. “They cost the same as the blouse, didn’t they?” “Yes!” says the shopkeeper. “But you didn’t pay for the trousers, either.” “Of course I didn’t!” answers Mary, “I didn’t take them. I am not foolish! Nobody gives things back and then pays for them!”

七、Dear Lucy,

Thanks for your last email. I’m very happy to know you are coming to China for the summer vacation. Now let me tell you something about China. First, there are many kinds of delicious foods and famous places in China. When you come, you’d better taste those foods. You should also take a camera with you to take photos of the famous places. Then, Chinese people are friendly. When they meet, they usually shake hands. So you can shake hands when you meet Chinese people. Next, we speak Chinese in China. So if you can’t understand what we say, you can ask the guides for help. Finally, it is very convenient to travel in China. The traffic is always there waiting for you. But if you want to take a train or a plane, you’d better book a ticket first.

I hope you will have a good time in China.

Yours,

Yuan Yuan

第一部分 听对话回答问题。(听两遍)

1. M: How do you usually spend your spare time, Tina?

W: Playing basketball. I love it.

2. M: You were born in the Year of the Pig, right?

W: No. I was born in the Year of the Dog. Like a dog, I’m a true friend.

3. M: May I smoke here?

W: I’m afraid not. Look at the sign on the wall, please.

4. W: It was your fifteenth birthday yesterday. Am I right?
M: That's right. I received a lot of birthday presents. My parents sent me a bike, my uncle sent me a watch and my aunt sent me a camera.
5. W: Will Sandy go horse-riding with us?
M: No, she won't. But her cousin will join us.
W: Oh, good. I hope it will not rain tomorrow.
M: No. The radio says it will be sunny.
6. W: I've got a problem. I can't sleep at night and I feel very tired in the morning.
M: Most students have that problem.
7. W: Next Sunday, there is going to be a party in my class. All of my classmates will go. But I don't want to because I am shy.
M: I think you should go because it is in your class. You shouldn't be shy in front of your classmates. You should smile a lot and speak less.
8. W: How are you going to spend your holidays, Mr Smith? Go on a trip or enjoy yourself at home?
M: I prefer visiting some places to staying at home.
9. M: You look so cool in this yellow sweater.
W: Thank you. I'm glad to hear that. In fact, green is my favourite, but the salesgirl said the green ones had been sold out.
10. M: Are there enough desks in the classroom?
W: I think there are enough. There are forty desks altogether. One for the teacher, thirteen for the students, and others for the parents.

W: My pleasure.

听第二篇短文,回答第 16~20 小题。

In Nanjing there are many buses going around the city, and they cost only 1 or 2 yuan to take. So many people like taking a bus to school or to work. But when an elderly person gets on the bus, are you willing to give your seat to him?

Some people on the bus don't like to help the elderly. They just close their eyes, listen to the music without looking at the elderly. Some will turn their faces to look out of the windows. Even when the bus driver keeps asking people to help the elderly, they are still on the seat.

However, we should help each other because anyone may need others' help. Next time, please try to help the person who needs help on the bus. You can let the elderly people get on the bus before you, or give your seat to the people with children. Then all the people will live a happy life.

七、Dear Li Ming,

I'm happy to receive your letter. I'm glad you would like to be a volunteer. Now let me answer your questions. I volunteer because I enjoy helping others and can learn a lot from others.

As students, we can take part in some interesting activities, such as looking after animals and working for sports matches. Also, we can join some organizations to help protect the environment and so on. It's OK to have problems, because volunteering takes much time and energy. Sometimes I can't balance my study and work. If your parents don't allow you to volunteer, you should have a good talk with them. Try to let them understand you.

I hope you love volunteering and do well in it. Looking forward to your good news!

Yours sincerely,

Daniel

Hello, everyone!

I'm very glad to share my experience of English learning with you today.

First of all, it's important to do your best in class. You should listen to the teacher carefully and try to answer questions actively. Remember to take an active part in any class activity, especially to practice speaking/spoken English bravely. (Don't be afraid of making mistakes. It can help improve your English skills more quickly.)

Learning English takes time, so you have to work hard after class. Go over what you have learned and complete your homework on time. Do as much reading as you can, for it is a good way to build up your vocabulary. (What's more, you can learn to keep diaries in English. Maybe you'll find it a bit difficult, but please keep trying. Just as the saying goes, "Nothing is impossible if you never give up.")

Different people have different ideas about how to learn English well. And I hope you'll find the suggestions of some value. Thank you for listening!

My Chinese learning

With the development of China, Chinese is becoming more and more popular. As native speakers, it's our duty to learn Chinese well. It helps us gain a better understanding of Chinese culture.

Chinese has been one of my main subjects since primary school. At first, it stressed me out because it was one of my weakest subjects. My Chinese teacher suggested that I read more books. From then on, reading played an important role in my life. I often went to the library. I made much progress in Chinese.

I think reading books is a useful way of learning Chinese well. Also, it's necessary to practise writing as often as we can. Only in this way can we become a good user of Chinese.
